Regarding his appointment, Mr. Kyriotis made the following comments:

"It is with great pride, humility and confidence that I have accepted the position of Chairman of the Board of Directors of SWMBRD. It is my aim to lead this profoundly innovative company into the future, to next levels of evolution and most importantly, to bring its unique and unprecedented products/innovation to the consumer and the world. I want to applaud Justin, Gareth and Matthew Schroenn on their dedication and resourcefulness in creating one of the most unique products that I have seen in my career and, from the point of view of a consumer myself, one which will add value to my life.

It is not lightly and with full confidence, given my considerable time and positions within the board sports industry and more widely, the global sports industry, that I state the following: there are few times I have witnessed “absolute true” innovation and SWMBRD with its swim board is definitely one of these unique moments. It is my absolute conviction, that SWMBRD will have a profound impact on the experiences people have in the water, whether that be in the ocean, river or lake. My own experience with the board has clearly shown me that what the bicycle is to us on terrain, the SWMBRD is on water; it allows us to have a completely different and unique experience in the water while giving us true freedom to explore the ‘liquid terrain’.

I believe that SWMBRD could become one of the most exciting and game changing chapters in the already extremely rich board riding history. SWMBRD will provide customers the opportunity to have totally new experiences in the water, will give other board riders new ways to enjoy the water element, and as a whole allow all of us the opportunity to more readily access/explore/enjoy the water.

I am ready and dedicated wholly to bring this innovation to commercialization and to help establish the board sport that has been waiting to be discovered. This is the board sport that is an add on to all board sports and I believe will be embraced by the board riding community. I am ready to engage my considerable experience and connectivity to bring SWMBRD to market in a meaningful, and scalable manner and help build what could be one of the most unique/innovative/growth products in sport.”

President and CEO Justin Schroenn says, “On behalf of the Founders, Executive and the Board of Directors, we are extremely proud and excited to welcome Chris to the SWMBRD leadership. His renowned skills and experience at the highest levels of major global brands will be critical in helping us navigate the waters towards full production and the implementation of our full brand vision. Chris’s passion, creativity and critical thinking as well as his aligned vision of the Company’s future have been obvious since our first meetings, and it is difficult to imagine a person more uniquely and powerfully suited to our intended goal of growing SWMBRD into a significant global board sport brand. We believe his extensive experience as former VP Nike global, former President Nike Inc. Brazil and former CEO of Billabong, among others, will accelerate our global ambitions exponentially and we could not be more excited to have Chris be a pivotal part of this journey.”
